

News Release

Simon Brown (Semtech's Director of Test) and Jammy Tan

Unisem Receives Customer Service Award from Semtech

Kuala Lumpur, 20 March, 2009 – Unisem recently received a customer service award from its customer Semtech. Unisem's facility in Ipoh was given this award in recognition of the factory's continuous excellent customer service support with AER builds. Special recognition was given to Jammy Tan (Sr. Customer Service).

Semtech is a leading supplier of high-quality analog and mixed-signal semiconductor products including power management, protection, advanced communications, human interface, test & measurement, as well as wireless and sensing products. Semtech's integrated circuits are employed in communications, computer and computer-peripheral, automated test equipment, industrial and other commercial applications.