

News Release

Unisem Group CEO Bruno Guilmart Resigns

Group COO C.H. Ang to assume Guilmart's responsibilities

Kuala Lumpur - 5 June 2008: Unisem announced today that Bruno Guilmart has tendered his resignation as executive director and group chief executive officer in order to pursue other interests. His resignation was accepted by the board of directors and took effect from 4 June 2008.

C.H. Ang, group chief operations officer, will be taking over all of Guilmart's responsibilities and will be leading Unisem moving forward. Unisem does not anticipate any additional changes to the group's organizational structure, nor will there be any disruptions to Unisem's daily operations.

About Unisem

Unisem is a global provider of semiconductor assembly and test services for many of the world's most successful electronics companies. Unisem offers an integrated suite of packaging and test services such as wafer bumping, wafer probing, wafer grinding, a wide range of leadframe and substrate IC packaging, wafer level CSP and RF, analog, digital and mixed-signal test services. Our turnkey services include design, assembly, test, failure analysis, and electrical and thermal characterization. With approximately 9,500 employees worldwide, Unisem has factory locations in Ipoh, Malaysia; Wales, United Kingdom; Chengdu, People's Republic of China; Batam, Indonesia and Sunnyvale, USA. The company is headquartered in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia. For more information about the company, its products and services, please visit its website at www.unisemgroup.com.